As a hitting instructor and mentor, I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Brent Sollars.

When Brent began lessons with me, I had no idea what to expect from him, and he quickly won me over with his work ethic and we soon found a bond. We spent every session in spring, summer and fall working especially on his hitting and mind set.

Brent's hard work and willingness to do whatever coaches ask of him is why he has become one of my favorite players. This kid has one of the strongest arms you will see also from the outfield playing all 3 positions well, along with that he will be one of the fastest kids on any team—he can fly!

One of the things I admire most about Brent is his character, he is an honest and trustworthy young man. He is coachable, dependable, follows the rules, and respects his teammates and coaches. In the classroom, Brent is an honor student with a 3.89 GPA and 4.33 weighted GPA. Brent is going to be a steal for any college or pro team that selects him, sky is the limit for this kid!

Brent is an outstanding young man who wants to continue playing baseball and further his education. His work ethic and integrity on and off the field, makes him an asset to any college or pro team

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

John Finn
